Spring Engagement Series

Conversations, classes, and creative opportunities about civic engagement.

February 2018

Nicholas V. Longo, Ph.D
Chair of Public and Community Service Studies
Professor of Global Studies at Providence College

From 2006-2008, he served as the director of the Harry T. Wilks Leadership Institute, an endowed civic leadership center at Miami University in Ohio. He also served as a program officer at the Charles F. Kettering Foundation in the area of civic education and directed Campus Compact’s national youth civic engagement initiative, Raise Your Voice. Nick is author of a number of books, articles, and reports on issues of youth civic education, community-based leadership, global citizenship, and service-learning.

Thursday, Feb. 15, 2018

Next Generation Engagement
Staff and Faculty
8:00am - 10:00am | Plenary Breakfast in EUC MAPLE
In this interactive workshop, participants will discuss the future of engagement, exploring the landscape of public engagement strategies across higher education, and more specifically how UNCG can continue to be a leader in these efforts.

Friday, Feb. 16, 2018

Community-Engaged Narrative Methodologies
Staff and Faculty
12:15pm - 1:45pm | Luncheon in EUC ALEXANDER
Join Dr. Nick Longo and UNCG representatives for a lunch discussion about photovoice and other qualitative narrative methodologies. This session is useful for faculty and students who practice or study community-engaged research and teaching.

Sponsored By:
Office of Leadership and Service-Learning
Institute for Community and Economic Engagement
International Programs
Department of Communication Studies
Office of Intercultural Engagement
Lloyd International Honors College